

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN

THE GREATEST AIR BATTLE 2 IN THE HISTORY OF WARFARE

High, high above the green fields of England, in the clean clear skies of the finest summer seen in years, a battle raged. Hardly more than specks in the air, they swooped and swirled and trailed great sinuous plumes of white smoke in a slow and deadly ballet. Through the whole of that fine summer of 1940 an island country's tiny air force with its young and inexperienced pilots held off the incessant attacks of the German Luftwaffe — the mightiest air armada the world had ever known. This was the battle that many say decided the fate of the world. This was The Battle of Britain.

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN II is an historically accurate recreation of the greatest air battle in the history of warfare. It employs the identical plotting map used by RAF Fighter Command in the summer of 1940 to track incoming raids, and the identical tote-board system to quickly vector the precious few Hurricane and Spitfire Squadrons to intercept those raids. The player will have his hands full tracking Radar and Ground Observer reports, analyzing the size and potential threat of "UNIDENTIFIED AIRCRAFT 200+ SPOTTED VICINITY BIGGEN HILL...", interpreting the daily "Ultra" intercepts, and coping with the weather, dwindling resources, and the Luftwaffe's sometimes uncanny ability to out fox you at every turn.

"I found a game simulation that blew me away. That super game is called The Battle of Britain II and it may very well make you forget all about whatever ails you... It's a superb, thinking person's computer game that proves you don't need arcade graphics to have fun playing computer games." DON CRABBE, CHICAGO SUN-TIMES

"If you're in the market for an entertaining, easy-to-play military-strategy game — one that forces you to act and react quickly to sudden attacks — look no further." MACWORLD

"The documentation in The Battle of Britain is superb, it is also remarkably brief... Frankly, the game is easier to learn than Chess and, in many ways, more absorbing... Don't miss it if you want a gaming distraction that is, at once, enjoyable, pleasant, easily learned, historical and lite." COMPUTER GAMING WORLD

Gentlemen, today's target...the oil refineries at Magdeburg. Takeoff in one hour.....

Flak ahead, Skipper.

No.4 engine hit!.....

.....Prop feathered, Skipper.

Bandits nine o'clock!!!

Get'im Portwaist.

Got'im!

Thirty seconds to target.....Fifteen seconds.....Bombs away!

Nailed it, Skipper!

Let's go home, crew.

"YEAR'S BEST SIMULATION: BOMBER.

A great simulation, provides more than an entertaining escape: it evokes an entire world. Stacked at the top of the list is BOMBER by Deadly Games."

GAME HALL OF FAME, MACWORLD

"Combining digitized sound with realistic graphics, it has the look and feel of real bomber missions... BOMBER is extremely enjoyable and is recommended for all Mac gamers." DRAGON MAGAZINE

"BOMBER is a great simulation... Great sound." MACUSER

"The game is fun to play, easy to learn, unpredictable enough to maintain interest, and — the hallmark of a good game — highly addictive... The temptation to fly just one more mission is very strong..." M.U.D. SINGER

16 DECEMBER 1944: SOMEWHERE IN THE ARDENNES

A pale dawn is just breaking over the distant tree-lined hills when your M4's radio receiver suddenly crackles to life: "Charlie two, Charlie two, this is Charlie one... Message... over." Reaching down through the open turret hatch your gunner hits the transmit button. "Charlie two... You will proceed to and secure sector coordinates 5206... Confirm... over." All five of you breathe a collective sigh of relief. No mention of a counterattack. No mention of Tigers nor Panthers on the prowl. While the other four members of your crew load and store a new supply of armor-piercing shells, you hunker down in front of the transmitter and dial up the Recon Company four or five clicks down the road. "Recon One, wait... I got nothing to the North of you... I got light weapons, personnel carriers, trucks due East of your position..." No sweat. A quick glance at the map, a weather check with the Met office in Paris, and you're ready to go. Sector 5206 reveals itself to be the village of St. Hubert, half a day's drive to the East along pretty good roads. No need for air support today; no need to call in the artillery. You can handle the next few hours on your own.

A FULLY OPERATIONAL RADIO RECEIVER/TRANSMITTER. YOUR VITAL LINK WITH BATTALION HEADQUARTERS, YOUR COMPANY LEADER, ARTILLERY AND AIR SUPPORT, AND THAT RECON UNIT DOWN THE ROAD.

THEY'VE GOT EVERYTHING FROM LIGHT WEAPONS SQUADS TO TIGER TANKS. YOU'VE GOT AN M4 SHERMAN. BUT HOLD ON, STAY ALIVE LONG ENOUGH AND THERE JUST MAY BE A M4A3(JUMBO) IN YOUR FUTURE.

"Load a round of HE in the main gun, Harry, we're moving out in five minutes." Your Gunner, Loader, Driver, and Assistant, clamber aboard and settle in. "Driver, due East." The engine roars to life. The tank pivots out of its hiding place in the tree-line. The familiar squeak of the track links lend a rhythmic note to the motor's rumble as you move slowly down the road — one day closer to Germany. One more day of trying to stay alive. One more day of never really knowing what lies ahead. Is M4™ a game? Was WWII... a game?

"The gritty 'You Are There' perspective is played out as much more of a strategy game and less of a simulation, with a feel for capturing the era and topic that may well be unsurpassed. M4 Tank Simulator has all of the best elements of a tactical military campaign game with the looks and sounds to sell it."

COMPUTER GAMING WORLD

"In this unassuming olive-drab box that looks like a K-ration is a brilliantly packaged game that's perfect for an hour or two of enjoyable wargaming... the game does have an arcade feel to it, but even die-hard wargamers will find it appealing."
